WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 16. 1738.

9. 981.

Yesterday arrived the Mail due from Holland.

Petersburg, July 22. O. S.

N Express is arrived from the Velt Marshal Count de Munich, who has brought the agreeable News of a second Victory obtained by that General's Army over the Turks near the River of Lavrin, upon the Territory of Poland.

Vienna, July 29. O. S. The

Duke of Tuscany's Journey for the Army is for several Days, and 'tis believed he will make a Trip to his Estate at Hollitz in Hungary. We are assured that the Court of Munich has with the States of Austria to furnish the Emperor with 6000 Bavarians, and that those Troops be here in 3 or 4 Weeks under the Command of Ferdinand of Bavaria.

Last Advices from the Imperial Army in the of Temiswarer say, that on the 20th ult. 'tis said that the Turks have changed the Siege of into a Blockade; and we hear that the Grand continues with his Army at Gladova, on the Side of the Danube. The Count Charles de Dietrichstein, Hereditary Grand Huntsman Duchy of Stiria, Grand Croix and Grand of the Order of St. John, &c. died last Tuesday an Apoplexy, in the 67th Year of his Age.

have this remarkable Account of the Feats been done by Lightening at Ziehuschitz, a belonging to the Count de Thun in Bohemia; 10th ult. O. S. between 3 and 4 o'Clock in the noon it broke into the Dining Room, in which Gaps, and struck a Heyduke that was sitting off of his Seat. In a Room where the Counts lewell and Rottal were playing at Billiards, it 14 Gaps, and cover'd the Billiard Table all with Rubbish: From thence it passed into another Room, where were the Chaplain of the Castle, Count de Rottal's Valet de Chambre, the Cook, the Archbishop of Prague's Farrier; but tho' in the Middle of 'em, it hurt nobody but the in, who was struck by it to the Ground. In Kitchen where there were five Persons, it the Maid. The Count de Thun, who was in Chamber with the Baron de Zarube, was struck Ground by it, but nothing happened in the adjoining to the Dining-Room, where were Archbishop of Prague, the Prince of Furstemberg, the Ladies. In the Front of the Castle there large Stone Ball at the Gate several hundred ft, which was split in two Pieces, one of was carried 60 Paces to the Right, and the as much to the Left. 'Twas thought that out of fourscore Persons that were in le, in which the Lightening made 31 Gaps, of them were hurt.

Countess of Seckendorf having sent to desire Emperor to permit her to follow her Husband to M. de Webber, a Member of the Council of came, in his Imperial Majesty's Name, to deliver, That she was welcome either to go to her, or to her Estate in the Country, or to continue: Whereupon the Countess is since gone. Mean time a Petition has been presented Emperor from the Count, praying him to determine what shall be his Doom; to which Petition Imperial Majesty has not yet return'd an Answer; Count de Strubenberg, the Governor of Gratz, orders to treat the Count with all the Respect his Rank. The Great Duke of Tuscany was the Day before Yesterday on Account of his situation. The late Reports of a Peace at Hand, but a very slender Foundation; tho' we are that the Turks are not so zealous as it was they were for carrying on the War, and of their Generals heartily wish for a Peace; because of the Mortality among their but by reason of the Murmuring among the forces, who still persist in their Demand to be in Climates more agreeable to their Condition, than that of Hungary.

P. S. According to our last Advices from the Army in Hungary, the Infantry are retired under the Cannon of Belgrade, but the Horse continue quiet near Panzovo. The Report that the Turks had changed the Siege of Orlova into a Blockade was too hasty; for they continue the Siege with the utmost Vigour; and 'tis said that a Resolution has been form'd to make another Attempt to raise it as soon as the Heats are abated, and our Army has received the expected Reinforcements. On the other hand 'tis reported, that the Grand Vizier waits for a proper Opportunity to give it Battle, and that his Army is but 2 or 3 Days March from our's.

Manheim, Aug. 5. O. S. We hear that the Emperor, the King of France, the King of England, and the States General, having made fresh Instances to the King of Prussia, to engage his Concurrence with the Regulations projected, in the Affair of the Succession of Berg and Juliers, his Prussian Majesty declar'd, that he was still resolv'd not to consent to the Provisional Admission of the Prince of Sulzbach to the Possession of those Dominions; but that if he would recede from that Regulation, he promised to commit no Violence in case of the Elector Palatine's Death, and propos'd moreover the putting of Neutral Troops in those two Duchies, and there to let them remain during the whole Course of the Negotiation for settling that Affair. The last Declarations of the Courts of Vienna and France, make it probable that their Imperial and most Christian Majesties will stiffly insist on the Execution of the first Regulations concerted upon this Affair.

Rome, July 22. O. S. The King Don Carlos has obtained the Bull of Croisade from the Pope for the Kingdom of the Two Sicilies, in the same Form and Manner as it was granted heretofore to the Emperor.

A Friend in the Country sends us now and then the Fruits of his Summer's Retirement, of which 'tis hop'd the following Sample will be as grateful to the Reader's Taste, as it is to our's.

The TREE and the WOOD-MEN. A TALE.

A TREE, 'tis said, at Richmond grew
As tall as Oak, as tough as Yew.
The Wood-Men saw, with envious Eye
His tufted Glories rising high:
This Tree, cry they, the rest will top,
And tho' we may not fell, we'll lop;
A thousand Bills are strait prepar'd;
But soon they find the Work too hard.
Unhurt it stood each sounding Stroke,
Their Arms it tir'd, their Tools it broke:
At length one shook his wiser Head,
And thus, his Bill thrown by, he said;
'Ye Fools, your Labour vain forbear,
'This Tree deserves the Wood-Man's Care;
'See how its Friendly Branches spread,
'In sultry Suns to be a Shade,
'And when from driving Rains you fly,
'This Shelter will be always nigh:
'Its Growth with Pleasure rather view,
'It grows not for it self but YOU.
